

CONDUCTOR VACANCY

The Redlands City Bands organisation has a Vacancy for the position of Conductor for its Beginner Concert Band.

The Beginner Concert Band is one of three Concert Bands within the organisation, which has a total of five bands, and over one hundred and twenty members.

The Conductor position is aimed at providing musical training for players that are learning an instrument, or wish to learn a second instrument, and includes putting together concert programs to be performed throughout the year. Responsibilities also include choosing the music for the Band from an extensive library, as well as purchasing new music within Budget, in consultation with the Musical Director; attending a monthly Committee Meeting to report on the progress of the band; or providing a written report if unable to attend. There is an opportunity to play in one of the more experienced Concert bands if desired.

The band rehearses on Tuesday nights, in a modern, purpose built rehearsal building, with first class facilities including a significant range of recently acquired Percussion equipment, in the Redlands Show Ground complex. The rehearsal schedule traditionally follows school terms, though some flexibility may be required.

It is an expectation that the applicant will have had previous Conducting experience and is actively taking part in continuous development programs. A music related undergraduate degree will be looked upon favourably.

The band is well supported by an enthusiastic Management Committee. A small honorarium is provided.
